

The 2010 Panama City Passion Play

The Panama City Passion Play is returning to the Marina Civic Center in beautiful downtown Panama City for its sixth season. This excellent musical drama has been experienced by over 30,000 people and with two production days in 2010 we anticipate 5,000 more to experience this superb performance.

Through five seasons, the Panama City Passion Play has remained a non-ticketed event – a presentation featuring a live orchestra, choir, cast and crew of over 200. In order to produce this performance at no cost, we are asking for companies and individuals to help underwrite some of the expenses through sponsorships. A special section in the playbill is designed for the business community supporting the production. Patronage of the Panama City Passion Play playbill is more than just a way to reach an outstanding customer base for your business; it's also a great way to support the arts in our community. Your sponsorship will include:
